OHIO ASSEMBLY MAY BE CALLED TO RAISE CASH

Bonus And Gas Tax Freeze Call For Legerdemain In Financial Department

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 6 — A special session of the legislature probably will be necessary following approval by Ohio voters of a constitutional amendment earmarking all gas tax and auto license revenues for highway purposes.

State Finance Director Herbert Defenbacher predicted the special session because the legislature, when in regular session, made no provision for reshuffling of state revenues which will be necessary due to the amendment's passage.

The amendment was placed on the ballot by initiative petition after the solons adjourned sine die. Defenbacher has lengthy charts and columns of figures to present to Governor Herbert to support his position.

The 300-million-dollar bonus also calls for a bit of financial legerdemain in finding an additional 12 million dollars a year to retire the state's share of the 15-year bonds. That money, however, need not be provided until Jan. 1, 1949, so that that problem can be handled by the next regular session.

ADMINISTRATION spokesmen were privately resentful of a published story that passage of the bonus had caught the state "unprepared" because the machinery to pay the bonus—a maximum of $400 to each ex-serviceman—was not ready to be placed in immediate operation.

They pointed out that Governor Herbert, some time ago, warned that it would take "at least four months" after passage before the bonus could be paid to Ohio's 900,000 vets. They also asserted that the administration would have been open to severe criticism had it expended unappropriated funds to finance bonus machinery before the votes had been counted.

Defenbacher pointed out that passage of the gas tax amendment will cut the general fund revenues by 15 millions a year, the amount now produced by the one-cent liquid fuel tax which goes into the state's general-use pocket. The three-cent gas tax already is earmarked for highway purposes.

SLEEPILY rubbing an infected eye is this little 2½-year-old girl known simply as Barbara. Shown at the Children's center in New York City, she was abandoned two weeks ago and police have been unable to locate her parents.

ESTATE OF CAR CRASH VICTIM ASKED TO PAY

Husband Of Civil Action Plaintiff Also Seeking $20,000 Damages

Mrs. Jean Selavi, 32, Charleston, W. Va., indicted Oct. 10 by the Pickaway county grand jury for second degree manslaughter in the death of William Yowler, 42, Springfield auto dealer, Thursday filed a $50,000 damage suit in common pleas court, naming as defendant Mrs. Georgia F. Yowler, executrix of the estate of her husband, William Yowler.

A $20,000 damage suit was filed simultaneously against Mrs. Yowler by Fred Selavi, husband of Mrs. Selavi.

Both petitions contain similar allegations. Mr. Yowler was instantly killed the morning of Sept. 14 when the car he drove was in collision with the auto operated by Mrs. Selavi. The tragedy happened at the intersection of State Routes 56 and 159 about eight miles east of Circleville.

Mrs. Selavi claims she suffered numerous permanent injuries and that she must remain in a cast for at least one year. Her husband, claiming ownership of the auto she drove, alleges it was damaged to the extent of $600 and that for at least a year Mrs. Selavi will be unable to perform household and marital duties.

In her petition Mrs. Selavi recites she drove east on Route 56 and that Mr. Yowler drove south on Route 159, that each roadway includes a large stop sign near the intersection. She contends the crash was the consequence of Mr. Yowler's high speed driving and carelessness.

Mrs. Selavi and her husband each declare that as executrix of her husband's estate Mrs. Yowler has rejected their claims for damages.

Date for the arraignment of Mrs. Selavi before Judge William D. Radcliff on the manslaughter indictment has not been set.

POLE FUGITIVE SAYS CHARGES "PACK OF LIES"

KENTON, England, Nov. 6—Stanislaw Mikolajczyk vigorously denied today Polish government charges that he was aided by a foreign embassy and permitted illegal appropriation of Peasant party funds on his flight to England.

The Polish Peasant leader was extremely depressed by the news of the arrest of three of his colleagues, also attempting to flee the country, who were seized by Polish security police. He said the rest of the announcement was "a pack of lies."

Mikolajczyk expressed fears concerning the welfare of his 70-year-old, ailing mother he left behind in Poznan. He said: "If the Communists can not hit a man, they get his wife, or child, or someone else close to him."

MARY STRIKE ENDS

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Nov. 6—Fifty strikers whose sudden walkout caused the Queen Mary to miss the morning tide decided to return to work immediately and the British luxury liner was expected to make her delayed departure for New York this afternoon.

HUGHES RAPS TAX EXPOSURE

Airing Income Matters Outside Of I. R. B. Hit For "Unfairness"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—Counsel for Howard Hughes charged the senate investigating committee today with "unfairness" in airing income tax matters of the Hughes Tool Co., outside the internal revenue bureau.

The protest was voiced by Thomas Slack, counsel for the millionaire plane-maker and movie producer. Slack objected to the committee's tactics in announcing that Hughes Tool Company owed five million, 919 thousand dollars in back taxes.

His statement came after Chairman Ferguson (R) Mich., insisted that the committee proceed with other witnesses instead of letting Slack continue his rebuttal of the tax figures. Slack told reporters:

"UNLIKE this committee the internal revenue bureau has heretofore operated on the basis of complete fairness and permitted the taxpayers to know all the arguments for and against any suggested tax."

The committee claimed credit for showing the internal revenue bureau how it might tap Hughes' company for an ex-

SUICIDE TRY FAILS FOR BOY "TIRED OF LIFE"

CINCINNATI, Nov. 6—A 16-year-old Cincinnati boy, who willed his eyes to a blind man, his vocal cords to a mute and his brain to General hospital, was recovering today after swallowing poison.

Police said the boy, William Merz, was discouraged with life. In his will, the boy asked that his body be buried unclothed and threatened to "haunt the one or ones who intercede" if the will was not carried out.

Taft Asks Probe Of Rising Grain Prices, Blasts Administration

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 6 — Sen. Robert A. Taft's call for an immediate congressional investigation of rising grain prices was hailed by Republicans today as his first major speech in his campaign for the G.O.P. presidential nomination.

A capacity crowd heard the Ohio senator say last night that he will demand the congressional inquiry to determine whether government "fumbling may not be responsible for the high prices."

His speech followed by a few hours the announcement in Chicago that the three major grain exchanges had requested an investigation by the joint congressional committee on the economic report of which Taft is co-chairman.

The Ohio Republican declared in Tulsa that he believed the recommendation of the three boards of trade was deserving of recognition.

Taft leveled his guns on the Truman administration, declaring it still is dominated by the new deal. He declared the left wing element in the Democratic party largely was responsible for President Truman's veto of the Taft-Hartley bill and the policies of not regulating exports that have caused the inflationary price spiral.

He urged the elimination of government controls over business and a return to the system of free enterprise and expressed disapproval of universal military training as proposed by Mr. Truman. But he said he favored a modified preparedness program.

Taft called for limited aid to starving Europe and a reduction in taxes for working men to meet the rising cost of living.

DUNN BLASTS AT RED CRITICISM OF YANK AIMS

VENICE, Nov. 6 — James C. Dunn, U. S. ambassador to Italy, struck out vigorously today against Communist propaganda which has been accusing the United States of ulterior motives in aiding Italy.

Dunn spoke at a brief ceremony in greeting the 100th United States ship to arrive with food and supplies in the last two months.

In his first open attack on Communist propaganda, he said Italians are being told "to beware this bearer of gifts" because the United States is "sly and a crafty colossus who wishes to enslave you." Dunn added:

"This is palpably and preposterously untrue. 'One had to assume that the motive for saying it has a purpose which is neither to benefit Italy nor the world.'"

Dunn said that in two months the United States has sent to Italy 238 thousand tons of wheat and flour, 7,300 tons of fats and other foods, 615 thousand tons of coal and large amounts of drugs.

BURMA PREMIER ESCAPES BLOW BY ASSASSIN

LONDON, Nov. 6—Rangoon dispatches said today that Burmese Premier Thakin NU escaped unhurt from an attempt to assassinate him at Mingaladon airport.

A Reuters report said the premier had just returned to Rangoon from a Holy pilgrimage. No other details were given.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

Republicans will drop a tax bill in the hopper the day congress opens—they figure Harry will be too busy with his speech to notice.

This will be the third time the Republicans have tried to cut taxes—and that's three over par for any party.

At Lake Success there is some talk of moving the general assembly to Europe—if the USSR and the USA can agree on a ship, which seems unlikely.

But from now on the nations are supposed to speak kindly of each other or remain silent—we may be in for the longest piece of quiet we've had around here.

The UN hopes to adjourn before December leaving the field to Joe Louis and Joe Walcott.

I won't say the UN hasn't done anything in its current session—but I think most of it could have been prevented.

Stalin Stooze Says Soviet Aims At Peace—Truman, Marshall Plan Hit

BULLETIN

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 6—The United Nations accepted with frank skepticism and lukewarm credulity today the announcement by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov that the "secret of the atom bomb no longer exists."

MOSCOW, Nov. 6—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov told a group of high Communist officials today that "the secret of the atom bomb no longer exists."

Molotov said: "It is well-known that the United States is basing its policy on sole possession of the secret of the atom bomb although the secret may be considered non-existent."

Speaking on the eve of the 30th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, Molotov charged that Soviet Russia had turned to the development of heavy industry "because she is surrounded by a dangerous capitalist entourage."

HE SAID that Soviet Russia is sincerely dedicated to peace, and toward this end has drafted a number of "five year plans" for the future.

The Soviet spokesman renewed attacks on President Truman and the Marshall plan for economic aid to Europe.

Molotov said: "All true friends of peace—and they constitute the majority of any country—can rest assured that the Soviet Union will defend the interests of peace of the whole world to the last."

"The Soviet Union acts in accordance with the policy of peace as Premier Stalin outlined to Stassen (former Gov. of Minnesota) and the difference between economic systems is not an obstacle."

"If collaboration is possible in wartime, why not in peacetime?"

FAULTY PLANE PARTS BLAMED FOR 52 DEATHS

PANGUITCH, Utah, Nov. 6—Defective equipment was blamed today for the fire aboard a United Airlines DC-6 plane which crashed Oct. 24 at Bryce Canyon, killing 52 persons aboard.

A civil aeronautics board hearing at Panguitich moved into its second day, James M. Peyton of Santa Monica, Cal., Cab investigator conducting the inquiry, said:

"As far as we know now, the fire apparently was generated from some part of the plane's regular equipment."

Peyton said steps were being taken to prevent a recurrence of the trouble in other DC-6 planes, but declined to elaborate further until the hearings are concluded.

NEW MAID AND $600 IN JEWELS DISAPPEAR

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 6—Mrs. Clyde M. Myers of Columbus complained to police today that a new maid she hired a week ago had disappeared, together with $600-worth of jewelry, cash and clothing.

Mrs. Myers reported three upstairs bedrooms in her home were ransacked.

IT SHOULDN'T HAPPEN to a dog—but it did. The housing shortage has hit the animal kingdom, so "Commodore" the cat just moved into the doghouse owned by "Herman," the dachshund, and the canine is trying to figure out the law governing squatter's rights. It all happened at the Women's International Exposition in New York.

Use of Fairgrounds As Circus Quarters To Be Discussed Thursday

Special committee of the Pickaway County Agricultural Society was scheduled to discuss with Fred Edlin, spokesman for the Mills Brothers Circus, Thursday, proposed use of the Fairgrounds at the north-east edge of Circleville for winter quarters for the circus.

Mr. Edlin attended a special meeting of the board of directors of the Agricultural Society, held Wednesday night in the city council chamber. At that time it was proposed that the Mills Brothers Circus, be permitted to use the Fairgrounds for a period of about 5 months for a fee of $300 a month or a total of $1,500 for the season, starting about Nov. 12 and ending about April 1, 1948.

In order to continue the negotiations with Mr. Edlin the directors appointed a committee headed by Tom A. Renick to confer Thursday with the circus representative.

Tom D. Harman, secretary-manager of the county fair, Ned H. Dresbach, treasurer, and other officials of the agricultural organization, had first discussed the proposed use of the Fairgrounds with Mr. Edlin in Circleville last Saturday.

PRAVDA LEVELS BITTER ATTACK AGAINST U. S.

LONDON, Nov. 6—The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda leveled a bitter attack today against the Marshall plan, "imperialists," "atom diplomacy" and "right-wing socialists" on the eve of the 30th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

An editorial broadcast by Radio Moscow said "imperialism... is being undermined by an ever-sharpening general crisis of the capitalist system."

"On the other hand, the forces of socialism and democracy are growing and becoming stronger. 'These forces are invincible and will lead to the complete fiasco of plans by instigators of a new war...'

"No, gentlemen blackmailers, you are unable to intimidate anybody—neither by your atom diplomacy nor by your rightwing socialists who are selling out their countries' interests for thin dollar-soup."

JONES ADVANCED TO BUREAU HEAD IN CINCINNATI

Hildeburn Jones, formerly of Circleville, was promoted from assistant manager to manager of the Cincinnati office today by Frank J. Collopy, administrator of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

FALLACY CITED AS BASIS FOR POLICY OF U. S.

"There is another policy counterposed to Stalin's policy of peaceful collaboration. This other policy is led by the United States—now with the Truman doctrine and now with the Marshall plan of aid to Europe, China, etc."

MOLOTOV SAID that the war had wrecked the capitalist system and declared Britain now has to depend upon aid from the United States. Speaking further of the atom bomb, he said: "British scientists twice this year protested against United States secrecy regarding the atomic bomb. This is not surprising since the peoples of Britain and the United States also are interested in forbidding atomic weapons."

"It is well known that the United States is basing its policy on sole possession of the secret atom bomb although the secret may be considered nonexistent."

Molotov charged: "It is clear that creation of new naval and military bases by imperialist nations is not being undertaken for aims of defense but for aggression."

Molotov's talk was made public to a Moscow brilliant with flags and banners in anticipation of huge military and workers' demonstrations scheduled for tomorrow.

BECKETT FACES LIKELY RETURN TO U. S. PRISON

Dwight Beckett, 40, who with two companions attempted to escape last Saturday afternoon from Deputy Sheriff Carl Radcliff, was in the Pickaway county jail Thursday facing a return to the U. S. Prison at Atlanta, Ga. to serve the remainder of a 5-year sentence for postoffice robbery.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff said Thursday that at his request County Prosecutor Kenneth Robbins dispatched the facts relative to Beckett to Elbert H. Williams, Columbus, a federal parole officer, and that Williams will relay the information to Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood, Columbus.

Ross Siders, 59, Beckett's father-in-law, and George Siders, 35, his son, nabbed with Beckett, were fined $10 and costs each by Justice of the Peace Harold O. Eveland and they were committed to the county jail in default of payment.

(Continued from Page One) tra three and one-half million dollars in back taxes—in addition to two millions already uncovered by the treasury itself.

Slack said that the Hughes Tool Co. is "guilty of no concealment or deception of any kind."

He said it was "unprecedented" for a senate committee "secretly" to send an investigator to the internal revenue bureau to "suggest" tax deficiencies to the federal agency. Slack added:

"TO PROJECT the tactics of secret advocacy into the field of tax litigation is going very far indeed. We intend to try our tax cases as heretofore—in the tribunals set for that purpose."

"We could not obtain a fair trial of these matters here and do not propose to attempt it."

DETROIT STRIKE DEVELOPS INTO WAR OF NERVES

DETROIT, Nov. 6.—The 79-day-old wage strike by Detroit garage mechanics, marked by police-picket clashes, became a "war of nerves" today.

Three packages, wrapped in gay Christmas paper and ticking loudly, were delivered yesterday to three struck auto dealers. The packages, when opened by police bomb experts, proved to be—alarm clocks!

The packages contained greeting cards signed with the name of Ray Dooe, business agent of Local 415 of the UAW-CIO. A bomb blew a hole in the roof of another struck Agency last week.

SOVIET DRIVES HARD TO BALK YEAR SESSION

Reds Said To Be Ready To Resort To Boycott
Again On Vote

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 6.—The Soviet bloc was prepared to fight a last-ditch battle today against the proposed year-round U. N. "Little Assembly," which it has threatened with boycott.

The political and security committee, currently considering a revised and more emaciated pattern than originally contained in the scheme presented by U. S. Secretary of State Marshall, is driving hard today for a decision.

A Czechoslovakian motion to derail the proposal into the budgetary committee on the grounds that an all-year session of fifty-seven nations is a tremendously costly matter is expected to be defeated.

The United States is certain that the committee will approve the plan by a sound majority, although falling short of the 46-to-0 vote the same group bestowed on the revised U. S. scheme for an independent Korea.

Advance indications are that the Soviet bloc plans to resort to the boycott for the third time during this assembly by announcing their non-participation in the vote and possibly in the future sessions.

H. V. Evatt of Australia on that basis appealed to the Soviet Union and her satellites to abandon the boycott policy in the best interests of the United Nations. He said:

"There is no breach of the U. N. charter and we are acting in the letter and spirit of the charter."

Soviet delegate Andrei Vishinsky, to whom Evatt had addressed his remarks, seized the opportunity to take the floor again and renewed his outburst against the "Little Assembly."

LUCKMAN MAPS PROMOTION FOR FOOD SAVING

People To Be Told Why And How They Must Help Feed Hungry World

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Charles Luckman, with his food savings plans completed, planned today to launch a mass promotion program to tell the American people why and how they must help feed the world's hungry.

The food conservation chairman told President Truman in his first formal report that the present emergency drive will "lay the foundation for a long-term generalized food conservation plan."

Summing up the citizens' food committee's first month of activities, Luckman said that working plans for the campaign have been finished and the big problem now is to convince the public of the need for savings. He said:

"All plans are now completed so that from this point on mass promotion can be relied on to tell people why and how they must help feed the hungry."

THE CITIZENS' food committee chairman outlined plans for an extensive newspaper, radio and motion picture advertising campaign in promoting the need for conservation.

Luckman said that the brewing, distilling and baking industries have agreed to grain-saving measures and that he will confer "within the next two weeks" with grain processors, and the meat and dairy industries.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 8 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with burning and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 70 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

SALES INCREASE, PRICES RISE ON LOCAL MARKET

Livestock sales increased in volume with prices of hogs and calves a little higher, and cattle, sheep and lambs holding firm, at the weekly auction Wednesday at the yards of the Pickaway Livestock Cooperative Association in Circleville.

Sales totaled 1,673 head as compared with 1,411 a week ago and 1,054 two weeks ago. Cattle receipts totaled 325 head as against 320 last week and 232 the preceding week. Receipts of hogs were 850 head Wednesday as compared with 700 last week and 500 the previous week. Calf receipts totaled 86 head as against 104 last week and 79 two weeks ago. Sheep and lambs receipts amounted to 412 head as compared with 287 a week ago and 243 the preceding week.

BISHOP CITES PEACE AT HOME AS NECESSITY

Charity And Love For Others Necessary, Says Fr. Michael J. Reedy

Speaking before a capacity gathering at St. Joseph's church, Bishop Michael J. Reedy of the Columbus diocese, Wednesday evening urged the people to pray, be constant in the practice of their religion, do their duty to God, to worship Him and ask His help now, because of the condition of the world.

This was the first official visit of the bishop to this parish. A class of 43 received the sacrament of confirmation. It was comprised of 23 children and 20 adults.

"Stay close to God and your religion, if you expect to withstand the temptations of the world," the bishop said. In speaking to parents of the responsibility of the marriage state he told them they were responsible for the spiritual as well as the temporal welfare of their children. This, he said, was the more difficult here because there is no parochial school. A school in this parish is needed badly, he said, and he urged the parents to cooperate with their pastor in establishing one.

FOLLOWING the conferring of the sacrament of Confirmation the Bishop presided at Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. He was assisted by the Rev. Fathers Frederick Burkhardt and Julius Schaeffer, Columbus. Other clergy present in the sanctuary were The Rev. Fathers F. J. Krueskamp and James Kulp, St. Peter's church, Chillicothe, and Father Raymond Rogers, St. Mary's church, Chillicothe, Father Otto Guenther, Washington C. H. and the secretary to the Bishop, the Rev. Father J. H. Wines.

During the confirmation exercises, Miss Eleanor Snyder sang "Veni Creator". An informal reception for the bishop was held in the Recreation Center following the services in the church. Miss Eleanor Snyder, as soloist, sang "Ave Maria" as the opening number. The Pastor, Fr. Edward J. Reidy then introduced Mayor Ben Gordon who spoke a few words of welcome to the bishop on his initial visit to the city and he was followed by Common Pleas Judge, William D. Radcliff who told of his pleasure in be-

Cecil Van Camp Opens Modern Laundry, Dry Cleaning Establishment

Cecil C. Van Camp announces opening of the Circleville Laundry and Dry Cleaning Company on N. Court St. at city limits. The plant is operating and the public is invited to visit it at any time.

Mr. Van Camp planned the new modern laundry. He has had many years of laundry and dry cleaning experience.

The cement block building occupies a 66 ft. frontage and 76 ft. depth. Large plate glass windows are across the front. New fluorescent lights will be installed inside to aid in careful inspection to each garment.

Only the newest equipment has been installed and Mr. Van Camp said he has waited many months for some units to arrive.

Complete pick-up and delivery service will be provided, offering quick speedy service to all customers.

All dry cleaning and laundry work will be processed in this new plant. Representatives of the equipment companies are now giving instructions to the employees on the operation of each individual machine.

Mr. Van Camp is the son of T. D. Van Camp, of Williamsport.

ing invited to participate on a program with the bishop.

Again the bishop spoke saying that now that the whole world is clamoring for peace why not bring a little peace to our own community by practicing the homely virtues of love for one another, work for justice, not alone for just what we are paid for doing, but with a wholeheartedness in our work. Practice charity and love for others instead of the things that lead to hatred and away from peace, try to dedicate our lives to peace.

He also said that "To whom much is given, much will be expected" and then he told of his recent visit to Japan and of other foreign countries and said that in our charity we should remember them in prayers as well as with temporal gifts.

DEWEY BACKS MARSHALL PLAN TO AID EUROPE

Six Point Program Offered And Plea Made To Make U. S. Attitude Clear

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today is on record strongly in support of the Marshall plan and effective aid to the free nations of Europe.

The 1944 Republican presidential nominee, in what was regarded as a major statement in his bid for the 1948 nomination, charged that past errors in administration foreign policy must be avoided.

He said America must state policies "which would make our purpose clear, so clear in fact that nobody could mistake them, not even the men in the Kremlin."

Dewey spoke before 50 business leaders at the annual banquet of Forbes magazine last night.

He urged the following six-point program: 1. Emergency aid should not be repayable in dollars. Recipient governments should be allowed to become self-supporting so that later there may be a return in the form of strategic materials exports.

2. Reconstruction aid should be on a straight loan basis for business purposes, administered by American businessmen.

3. Foreign aid should be supervised by a special authority, a genuinely bipartisan board.

4. Aided nations should be required to enumerate their self-aid program under the Marshall plan, and aid should be withdrawn if the programs are not adhered to.

5. CONGRESS should adopt a policy which clearly states we will aid those who will work with us on the road back to economic stability.

6. The story of American achievement should be told to illustrate that human freedom and free enterprise can bear the same fruits throughout the world.

STAR IN ANYONE'S EYES

MAYBE you're a beauty lover with an eye for standout style and the long, sleek, flowing line.

Know anything on the road today that's more the picture of perfect grace — more certainly the forerunner of the coming things in cars?

Or maybe you are strong for action — like the exciting feel of a really able performer, thrilling in its abundance of power, instant and sure in its responses.

Ever sample the wallop in this big Fireball straight-eight — or Buick's swift answer to your wheel hand and your treadle foot?

It could be you like comfort.

Broad seats, plenty of room, a soft and gentle ride that asks no favors from the road.

Come see what happens when you get a stout and rugged chassis, easy coil springs on all four wheels, room for three on front seat and back, and low-pressure tires that are like pillows on each wheel.

Or possibly, as a family man, you give more than a thought to the safety of those who ride with you.

You'll find this one starring on that score too — in controls that are firm and sure, bodies that are stout and rugged, even wheel-rims that are extra wide for control in emergencies, stability on curves and a firm, sure grip-on-the-road against sudden stops or skiddy going.

In truth, whatever you put first in an automobile — style, size, room, handling, comfort, controllability — you'll find this one putting stars in your eyes.

A joy to see, a thrill to handle, a dream to drive and ride in, it's America's most wanted car not on one count but on all of them.

Why wait vainly for others to catch up, when an order placed now, with or without a car to trade, makes you certain of getting the latest and choicest thing on the highway?

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

SAME OLD BAD HOUSES
HUNDREDS of Londoners are going to be moved out of London into half a dozen suburban towns. Factories are to be built on the outskirts to supply income. If Londoners wish to move back into the big city they are going to find this difficult since no building permits for residential construction will be issued. The labor government, through its Ministry of Health, headed by Aneurin Bevan, is devoting much attention to town and country planning.
F. J. Osborne, one of the prominent British architects working on this planning commission, is visiting this country under auspices of American city planners. He admitted that in all the new ideas for rebuilding England, particularly the bombed areas, one house plan detail would remain unchanged: there will be no central heating system in the new homes.
English families will rely as always on fireplaces in living room and dining room, a range in the kitchen. Generally heatless will be the bedrooms, which number three in typical homes and are always on the second floor. They, too, may have small fireplaces, seldom used and never efficient.
An Englishman's home is still his castle, but a cold one. Coals must still be carried up and ashes out. There may be changes in Britain, but house plans—at least for many houses—are not among them. Englishwomen will have none of modern, well-planned comfort. Probably they think such comforts as we enjoy would make them soft. There may be something in that point of view. Plenty of us are too soft. But fire-place heated houses would never do with us.

WORLD GOVERNMENT
THERE IS probably more of a drift toward world government than most people realize. One of the foremost lawyers in Ohio, Federal Judge Robert N. Wilkin makes this statement.
"Courts," he says, "should be established throughout the world to protect the essential rights of individuals. The Russians think our system of law is a defense of capitalism, and therefore they oppose it. If they persist, the only thing we can do is to get all the other nations to come in with us in a world judiciary system. If we set it in motion, the Russian people will see that it works and will not oppose it."
"The only way to peace, prosperity and security is through international trade. Nationalism, racism and economic ideologies are insurmountable obstacles to peace."
"I have no secrets from newspaper men, only from diplomats." So Andrei Y. Vishinsky, the Russian Minister for Foreign Affairs, told a newspaper conference. He recognized thereby the fact that newspaper men respect confidences if asked to do so. Do diplomats? Then how is it that so many reports of secret meetings get out to the world?

Inside WASHINGTON
Special Session of Congress | Famine Conditions in China
Expected to Vote Aid Funds | Not Likely to Better Soon
Special to Central Press
WASHINGTON—Prevailing opinion on Capitol Hill is that the special session of Congress will vote funds for stopgap aid to western Europe, although President Truman's estimate of the amount required may be trimmed.
Leaders of both parties are said to agree that United States help to hungry Europe is a responsibility the nation cannot escape.
The special session is not expected to result in revival of war-time controls to beat down high prices. Many veteran observers believe this legislation will go over until the regular session in January.
The price question may become entangled in presidential election year politics, with both the administration and the Republican congressional majority sponsoring programs.
A compromise may be worked out, and this is doubly probable if the inflationary price spiral rises much higher.
Mr. Truman is expected to call for allocations of materials in short supply, but whether he will go beyond this is undetermined.
FOOD FOR ASIA?—Although special emphasis is being placed on the need for food in non-Communist western European countries, high government officials are casting troubled eyes on the situation in Asia.
They point out that more than half of the world's two billion people live in Asia and that farmers in Asiatic countries spend 60 per cent of annual income for food which they themselves cannot raise.
Famine conditions in China are, of course, already shocking. The picture is not expected to improve, since many of China's young

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Perhaps no one is particularly interested in a lengthy dissertation on the subject, but it would seem high time for someone to re-define that much-maligned word "Liberal."
During recent weeks, both here in Washington and elsewhere across the country, the term has been distorted, mis-applied and thoroughly libeled.
Never was the term more mistakenly applied than when certain misguided individuals, either through ignorance or carelessness, used it as a synonym for Communist during the Hollywood unAmerican hearings.
To prove the point, let's see what the dictionary has to say on the subject:
"Open - minded . . . unprejudiced. . . advocate of democratic reform. . . one who has freedom from narrow views. . ." And so on.
Without going further into the explanatory wordiness, it becomes quite clear that a Communist, as such, could not be a liberal. Or, if you like the reverse English better, a liberal could not be a Communist.
Why? Simply because, having sworn allegiance to the party-line principles, he never again could be open-minded or unprejudiced on various controversial questions which might arise.
Of course, many a Communist piously refers to himself as a "liberal," but that either is plain stupidity or else sucker bait to woo the unwary.
By the same token, it naturally follows that no Fascist could be a liberal, or vice-versa, just to balance that political teeter-totter. But the thing goes much farther than those simple definitions and denials.
Historically, the word "liberal" — apart from its occasional party connotations—has been used to define a thoughtful, reasoning, individually progressive attitude towards current social and political problems, whether they concerned the community or the country.
Specifically, it referred to an individual who was free from any rigid orthodoxies and not sworn to follow any doctrine blindly.
Politically then, a liberal simply was a man who was willing to "scratch his ticket", come election day—thus voting on the merits of the individual candidate or case, rather than according to regular party dictates.
Another popular misuse of the term has been the assumption that a liberal must be a left-winger, a man eternally bucking the status quo, a crusader constantly seeking to change the current scheme of things.
This definition, too, is patently and obviously ridiculous—and you need go no farther than the recent battle over the Taft-Hartley labor bill to prove the point.
In that fracas, it was the so-called "liberals" who were fighting to defeat the bill and maintain the status quo. . .
Thus defending liberalism in its original sense—merely an open-minded and individual approach to each problem—it becomes plain that some of our leading old-line, Down-East, so-called conservative New England lawmakers actually are among the nation's leading liberals.
For instance, many of them had quietly outlawed child labor long before certain loud-shouting, self-professed "liberals" even got around to attacking that evil. You decide which was the real liberal. . .

DIET AND HEALTH
A Patient With Diabetes

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
EVERY year more and more people are having annual physical check-ups and as a result more cases of diabetes are found. This is one of the great dividends paid by this excellent custom, because the sooner a diabetic patient is placed under the care of a doctor, the better his condition will be.
It is a very encouraging fact that these days the vast majority of diabetic patients can be up and about and carry on their usual activities in good health if they follow the treatment outlined by their physician.
For this reason, during recent months a number of life insurance companies have been making a drive against this disease. As a result, I have received many letters requesting an article on it in my column.
Mistaken Idea
Many people wrongly suppose diabetes to be a disease of the kidneys. It is really caused by a lack of insulin, a powerful chemical normally manufactured and secreted by an organ known as the pancreas. Without insulin the body cannot properly utilize the carbohydrate or sugar of the diet.
Formerly the only way of controlling diabetes was to deprive the patient of those foods which his body could not handle. Since the great discovery that insulin could be manufactured in the laboratory, the lot of the patient with diabetes has been improved 100-fold.
Diet is Important
Diet is still of great importance, but today it can be well balanced and nourishing because with this wonder drug, insulin, at our command, we can supply, by injections under the skin, exactly the material which the patient fails to make for himself.
When a patient with diabetes presents himself to the physician, it is suggested that he have a complete physical examination so that any infection present in the teeth, tonsils, sinuses or elsewhere in the body may be discovered and properly treated. In addition, an X-ray of the chest should be made, particularly if the patient has been exposed to tuberculosis.
May Run in Family
It is also important to point out to those with diabetes that there is a tendency for this disease to run in families; hence, relatives of the patient also should have examinations made to determine if diabetes is present.
As a general rule, diagnosis of diabetes is made by a physician.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
H. K.: Will you please tell me what causes noisy breathing?
Answer: There are many causes for noisy breathing, such as disturbance of the lungs, an enlarged tonsil gland in the neck, enlarged tonsils or adenoids, or infection of the larynx or voice-box. Asthma and heart trouble may also cause noisy breathing.
Careful study by a physician is advisable in a case of this type to determine just what disorder is present.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR
WHEN PHILIP slipped in the booth beside Allison he said, "Teresa wouldn't come to a place like this. Comparisons . . . Do you mind?"
"I like you very much, but . . ."
"But in fairness to her, our lives have been very different."
"I grant that. Surely I have never been less than fair to her."
"You love her . . ."
He folded his arms on the edge of the table. "I'm defeated. Sam's beaten me twice. All during the war I wondered what would happen when he came back to see his daughter. There's a lot of bitterness and love mixed up in that. I don't think they themselves can get it quite straightened out. Apparently they haven't got over each other."
She felt annihilated. "You think Sam loves her?"
The ash of his cigaret crumpled on the red porcelain table. He didn't see it.
"I think he'll marry her again. Isn't that enough? And isn't it high time I called the whole thing off? You're a girl. You can't see Teresa as a man sees her. No one can possess her because she possesses herself. That's what makes her fascinating. Men want to try to break her down."
"Can Sam?"
He shook his head negatively. His voice was unusually intense. "Not even Sam. Teresa has lived without love for more than three years. She's lived like a hermit, telling herself that her career and her child were everything. She's tried to despise men, but she hasn't succeeded. She wants love, needs it. But a man is only a side-issue to her; a flash and it's gone. It would be the same if she hadn't had a new dress for more than three years. She would have to have a new dress. But after she wears the new dress a few times she wants to throw it away."
Sam, his vitality, his warmth, his strength compared with a new dress . . .
He said, "If Teresa were not so strongly sexed she could be a successful career girl and that would be that!"
She reached for a cigaret and lit it before he could assist her. She had to do something to keep her hands steady.
"You know all these things about her, Philip, yet you'd have married her?"
He nodded. "Yes. Yes. Which makes me into a case of retarded development or something. The perennial adolescent and his first love. Love is a little like a habit-forming drug. It isn't easy to break the habit when it has a firm hold on you." He took off his glasses and smiled at her wearily. "Would it embarrass you if I told you you could assist in the cure?"
"I like you very much, but . . ."
"You're an exciting girl. You're a lot of the things I tried to dream into Teresa, things that simply weren't there. That's so easy to do. We want our love to be perfect. That's one of the reasons why we get hurt because the person won't, can't live up to the image of perfection we've built up in our minds. It's one of the stages of love. And the last stage is when you accept her faults, knowing you'd rather have her than another girl who could better live up to that image of perfection . . . That's how it is. I'll tell you no lies. You're tired and sleepy. Let's go home."
She sat with his arm around her and her head on his shoulder all the way home. It was a good arm and a good shoulder, she thought half-consciously. You didn't have to worry about anything. You didn't have to think if you didn't want to. All the things you needed to soothe a damaged spirit Philip could give you. And he was taking you to a house that was the nearest thing to a home you had known since you had left Vermont. Her room was waiting and the bed and in the morning breakfast would be brought in. There would be fresh flowers on the tray and the morning paper. Nothing forgotten. Maybe love could evolve from this greased existence . . .
She opened her eyes. It's almost daybreak, she thought. And I don't believe any of these things I'm thinking. I don't want substitutes for Sam. I want Sam . . .
She and Philip walked up the broad stairway together.
"If you catch up on your sleep by tomorrow afternoon, Allison, will you drive in with me and have tea with my venerable Aunt Sara? Two Sunday afternoons a month that's a date put above all others. I'd like you to meet the old lady. She's out of another era, but she keeps a finger on this one, too."
As Edna drove off, Allison walked up the steps to the clean white door with the shiny brass knocker. If only she could go back to October and begin all over again, she thought. But would it be different if she still trusted her feelings, believing that love wanted to fulfill itself? Her hair had begun to glister with the partly frozen rain before Annette responded to the knocking.
"A lot of changes here since you

Today's Horoscope
A birthday celebration today indicates that you lack self-confidence and decision. You do much better under the supervision and direction of others. You are tender and sympathetic, devoted to your family, and should marry someone who will inspire you to aspire to your best. The day is doubtful in regard to friends, organizations and hopes in the latter part of the day. Inexplicable impulses and urges for romance beset you in your next year, which you should strive to curb; otherwise much sorrow and heavy losses will result. The utmost circumspection and self-control is advised in all your affairs. Born on this date a child will be unfortunate in business, marriage and friendships, and the health will be poor, feverish ailments and accidents threatening. The lure of the senses may jeopardize success and happiness.

STARSSAY—
For Thursday, November 6
AN exciting, tumultuous, and dramatic state of affairs may be predicated on the basis of conflicting planetary aspects, with a forecast of a sudden turn of events having radical and far-reaching influence on plans and objectives already established. The energies, emotions and mental slants seem abruptly to swerve aside from regulation activities tearing in interests and temptations in diverse directions. It is quite probable that the new compulsion had as basis a purely personal or romantic yearning for change or high adventure to the detriment of previous work.
For the Birthday
Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a dilemma born of a sudden occurrence, opening or association in which the impulses, emotions and judgment seem to be dramatically torn from old fastnesses, plans and obligations, into the realm of thrills, strange pastures, new emotions and hectic adventure, of radical consequence in the business or domestic life. Novel experiences or productive openings beckon, and could be "grounded" by serious consideration and appreciation of relative values, with stability rather than chance or gamble as the basic urge.
A child born on this day is talented and ambitious but may be lured by thrills, romance and high adventure rather than stern effort.
Christian Temperance Union will hold an all day prayer service Wednesday in the parlors of the Methodist church.

YOU REALLY DON'T CARE
SO LONG as you know you are squeezing one or the other of your opponents, you don't really care which it is. There are situations exactly like that, in which you can be sure beyond peradventure of a doubt that your squeeze play will work, but have not the slightest idea of which defender must bear the brunt of it. That can exist when you have each defender marked as holding some one specific card—the first player on the squeeze trick having the only guard to a card in the next hand, and the second player possessing the only protection against a card in the same hand as the squeezer. The trick neither of them may be able to defend against some secondary card in a third suit.

South was set a trick in a hurry with the club 8 to the A, the spade K, spade A, heart A and heart Q, so when East returned the club Q to the sixth trick, he naturally wanted to avoid going down a second trick. Study showed him that a squeeze play would do it. East's lead of the heart Q after the A had marked West as holding the K, and East was marked with the club J because of his having led the Q. Therefore West would have to try to protect his bid against the dummy's heart J becoming a trick-taker and East would have to defend against the club 10 becoming good. In order for them to do that, however, they would have to make the diamond 10 good. Or at least which one held three diamonds would have to relinquish his protection in that suit.

So, after taking the sixth trick with the club K, South ran his trumps. As the last spade was led, he also held the diamond A-2 and club 10, and dummy the heart J and diamond K-10-9. West of course had to hold his heart K, so discarded a diamond. The heart was then tossed from the dummy. The squeeze had already worked, though South didn't yet know it. When East, however, discarded the club 9 and kept the J, he knew West was the man who had been crushed. The diamond A, K and 10 then took the last three tricks.

Third Collins Series Pleases Local Audience

Original Program Presented By Miss Marmein

Outstanding feature of Miriam Marmein's dance program Wednesday evening in the high school auditorium was her constantly changing moods and styles and the transformation from the visual aspect of one character or number to another.

The third in the Collins management series was sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club and members of the Circleville high school band.

Miss Marmein in her group of pantomimes translated all phases of the theater; tragic, comic, fantastic, romantic, poetic and satiric into movements of rhythm. Each dramatic dance was composed and costumed by Miss Marmein and presented to the accompaniment of synchronized music.

Bob Phillips introduced each number and gave brief interpretations of her original creations. In her imaginary dances she enacted the part of a traditional clown who encounters a doctor by Boulanger. She then changed costumes and portrayed the interpretation of the movement of the subjective soul of man in the deep recess of his unrealized being by Ravel.

Costumed as a "garcon" in realistic pantomime she performed the duties of a French waiter. The caricature was arranged for the dancer by Suk. From her Biblical motion drama by Dukas, she expertly performed the "Daughter of Herodias".

The humor of "And So to Bed" portrayed the beauty ritual of a glamour girl and included a beautician's rules of art to the end of improvement upon nature. The idea was effectively costumed and arranged by Walton. To drum accompaniment, Miss Marmein skillfully enhanced the visual "Death of the first born".

With lyrical achievement she conveyed the character "Judas" by Holst. Another feature was her complete change of mood to portray the trials and tribulations of a Colonial housewife. The 1776 version of the help problem was arranged by the dancer and Leonard. "The Fountain" by Chopin was costumed along classical lines and executed in grand style.

"Get Your Man", an 1892 version by Herbert, was her concluding number. Continuity of the action was a Miss who would be a Mrs. She wore a striking costume of lavender and purples with shades of rose, while she assumed the role of an Edwardian debutante.

The last in the series will be presented Friday November 21. At that time four professional piano accordion concert artists will present classical and semi-classical music especially arranged by Andrew Rizzo, Chicago, Illinois.

Leaders Appointed At Nebraska Grange

Nebraska Grange members met in the Walnut township school auditorium for their November meeting to conduct a routine business session and the annual election of officers.

Wayne Hines was elected master, Chester Nocke, overseer, Mrs. Carl Scothorn, lecturer, Don Collins, steward, Hermann Hines, assistant steward, Mrs. Anna Hedges, chaplain, Arthur Sark, treasurer, and Mrs. Fred Hedges, secretary.

Frank Wharton, gatekeeper, Miss Thelma Hines, Ceres, Mrs. Kermit Massie, Pomona, Mrs. Lawrence Wolford, Flora, Sara Jane Hedges, L. A. S., Mrs. Joseph Peters, organist, and Carl D. Bennett, legislative agent and executive-committee director.

JACKSON P. T. S.
National education week will be observed at the regular meeting of Jackson township Parent Teachers Society when its members gather Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the school building. The Rev. Elisha Kneisley, pastor of the First Methodist church, will be guest speaker. Pupils of the school will present a short program.

PUBLIC INVITED
An invitation has been extended by members of the Pickaway Garden Club to all garden club members in Pickaway county to attend their meeting Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the social rooms of the Presbyterian church. Arthur Harper, Columbus, guest speaker will discuss "Wild Flowers."

KINGSTON M. Y. F. GROUP HAS MEET

Kingston community Methodist Youth Fellowship group conducted a candlelight orientation service in the Kingston Methodist church. Participating in the services were the Rev. Leonard W. Mann, Mac Wolfe, Jimmie Roe, Sandra Rhoades, Peggy Carmean, Kathryn Morris, Janice Sunderland, Genevieve Dunkle, Ned Wolfe, Patty Britton, Marilyn Miller, Alice Jo Jones, Martha Sharrett, Dusty Rhoades and Betty Bol-doser.

Patty Britton sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Janice Francis. Marilyn Miller sang, "My Cathedral," accompanied by Kathryn Morris. Four members interpreted the meaning of the M. Y. F. emblem by explaining the circle, Maltese Cross and the Latin Cross. Mr. Mann lead the group in repeating the M. Y. F. covenant. Vocal selections were sung by four girls during the service.

Officers were installed, with each explaining their respective appointment. Each member took part in the candlelight ceremony conducted by Mr. Mann. Dusty Rhoades played a trumpet solo arrangement of "The Holy City." He was accompanied at the piano by Janice Francis. With the M. Y. F. benediction the program was concluded.

CALLIHAN - RADCLIFF
Mrs. Georgie Callihan, Maplewood avenue, announces the marriage of her daughter, Alfredia, to Merle Radcliff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Radcliff, Stoutsville. The new Mr. and Mrs. Radcliff were married Sunday afternoon by the Rev. J. L. Allen in the Methodist church at Greenup, Kentucky. Mr. Radcliff is employed at the Pickaway Dairy. The bride and bridegroom are making their home in Stoutsville.

Mrs. W. L. Bourke and children, Patricia and Billy returned Wednesday to their home in Los Angeles, California, after an extended visit with her parents, Dr. J. J. Rooney and Mrs. Rooney, East Union street.

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Gilliland, Pinckney street, have gone to VanWert where they will be guests of relatives. Mr. Gilliland will attend the Notre Dame-Army football game Saturday.

PAPYRUS CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Members of the Papyrus club accepted the hospitality of Mrs. George Fickardt, North Court street, Wednesday evening when she opened her home for the regular club meeting.

The program was devoted to three chapters of an original story written by Mrs. A. C. Turner. Club members participated in a roundtable discussion of fiction, facts and poetry. Among those present were Mrs. E. O. Crites, president, Miss Nell Weldon, Mrs. W. Emerson Downing, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. C. T. Gilmore and Mrs. Margaret Gillen.

For an unusual soup, combine a can of green turtle and one of split pea; serve piping hot.

Hay Ride, Supper, Program Enjoyed By Local Youths

Twenty seven members of Westminster Fellowship of the Presbyterian church were provided transportation by J. Beryl Stevenson Wednesday evening for a hay ride. The young people took their picnic suppers with them to Mr. Stevenson's home in Wayne township. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wagar, the Rev. Donald E. Mitchell and Mrs. Stevenson chaperoned the group.

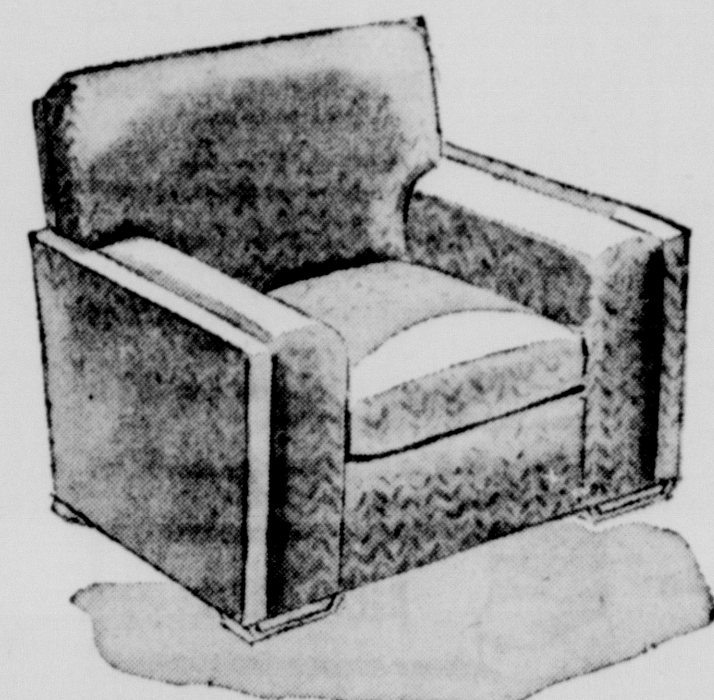

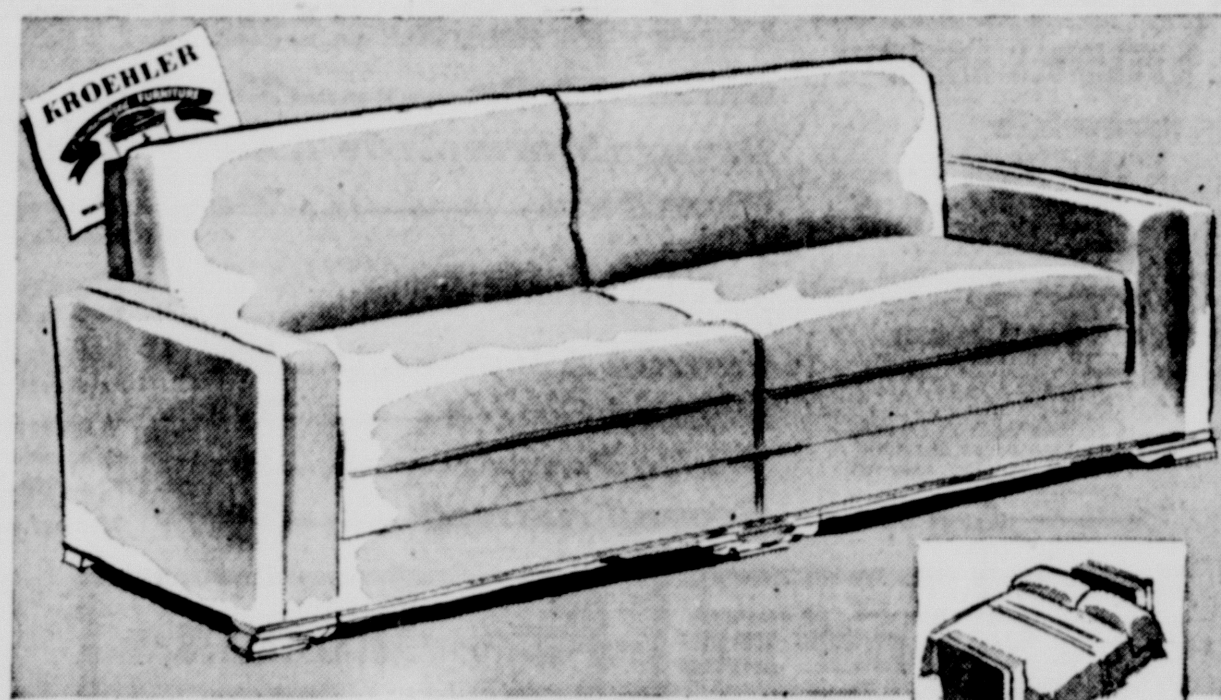

Following the evening meal they returned to the social rooms of the church where they played games and had a song fest. A dessert course was served by Mrs. Mitchell. All arrangements for the most successful evening were planned by Don Davis, president.

CHURCH GROUP HOLDS MEETING

Mrs. Tom A. Renick extended the hospitality of her home on East Main street Wednesday afternoon to members of group E, Women's Association of the Presbyterian church for their November meeting. Miss Grace Smith conducted the devotionals. Mrs. E. S. Roper, chairman, presided for the business session as the group discussed Christmas plans. Mrs. Donald E. Mitchell gave a resume of her Summer vacation trip. The hostess served tea and refreshments to 12 members during the social hour.

Successful evening were planned by Don Davis, president.

"LESS" DAYS NOT BEING OBSERVED BY CAFE MEN

Restaurants Generally Are Leaving Savings Up To Customers Demands

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—A nation-wide survey revealed today that most restaurants outside of eastern cities virtually are ignoring President Truman's meatless, eggless and poultryless days.

The survey, conducted by International News Service at the end of the first month of the food conservation drive, includes reports from leading local restaurant associations in 28 large cities. It disclosed:

1. Restaurants in the East generally are complying with the food-saving program, but most public eating places in the Far West are ignoring the campaign and compliance in other areas is very spotty.
2. Many restaurants throughout the country have received complaints from their customers on conservation practices, especially eggless and poultryless Thursday.
3. Practically all restaurants, even those cooperating in the program, are willing to leave the question of saving food entirely up to their customers' demands.

SIX DAY EXTENSION MAY BE AURORA DOWNS ORDER

AURORA, Ill., Nov. 6—Officials of the Aurora Downs harness race plant indicated today that the Fall meeting may be extended one week as a result of program cancellations due to the weather.

The track was forced to postpone its program last night because of rain, making it the sixth postponement of the current meet.

The Illinois harness racing rules authorize a six-day extension of any meet cut short by weather postponements.

HERSHEY BEARS BREAK BARONS' VICTORY STREAK

By International News
The Cleveland Barons of the American hockey league entered for Indianapolis today to tangle with the Western division leaders following their 3-1 defeat by the rejuvenated Hershey Bears.

Last night's setback ended the Barons' winning streak at four games.

The American hockey league's Eastern division leaders, the Providence Reds, went down to defeat last night at the hands of the Buffalo Bisons, 7-2. Les Douglas and Joe Bell each tallied three points for the winners.

In other American league games last night, Philadelphia edged Indianapolis, 5-4, while Pittsburgh defeated Springfield, 7-3.

Only one game was played in the National league last night. The league-leading Boston Bruins edged the last place Chicago Ice, 2-1.

Other games in the American league tonight include Washington at New Haven and Philadelphia at Providence. No games are scheduled in the National league.

AERIAL BATTLE ALL THE WAY, PLAN OF ARMY

Blaik Maps Strange Fight Considering Passing History Of Cadets

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—Army's football team left West Point today and headed in the direction of South Bend, Ind., determined to beat Notre Dame Saturday with a passing attack.

That appears to be a strange plan considering the sort of forward passing Army has been getting all season up to the 65 to 13 rout of Washington and Lee last week. Their passes worked then, but whose wouldn't?

In yesterday's final real drill of the cadets, Coach Earl (Red) Blaik revealed that he plans to get some throwing Saturday from Arnie Galiffa, Gus Dielens and Bill Gustafson.

Blaik predicted an aerial battle all the way, with Notre Dame expected, of course, to cut loose through the air on the arm of Johnny Lujack aided somewhat by Frank Tripucka.

The latter will be recalled as the young man who completed all except one pass against Navy in close to a dozen tosses last week. Lujack needs no introduction; he is the young man Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame says is the best in the business.

As for Army, Galiffa probably will handle most of the aerial work. Dielens will be available again after a spell on the sidelines with a shoulder separation and may get into a considerable amount of action.

Gustafson is to run from the left half slot and from that position do any passing that may be needed from him.

ASIDE FROM the backfield, the two teams also will have what are known as lines. One wouldn't think so from all heard about the backs. Army has a really great line, Notre Dame one equally good and in addition holding an edge of about 15 pounds, if the statistics mean anything.

The Army has lost such notables as Poole and Foldberg, but still has been able to hold the opposition to 60 yards per game on the ground this season.

Once again, of course, that has nothing to do with passing and they haven't seen any passing such as this they will encounter on Saturday.

The winner? Read your Sunday newspaper, bub.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Square Biscuits, Yet!

I see by a neighboring paper, that the round biscuit is on the way out. Yes, sir, home-management specialists have found that the square biscuit lends itself to assembly-line production and easy storage better than those customary ovals.

Well, we're all for progress, but that's one new idea we just don't cotton to. A round biscuit, spread nicely amidships with snappy country cheese, looks like a biscuit! And accompanied by a mellow glass of beer, it's a combination that you can't improve on!

So at the risk of being called old-fashioned, I'm voting for round biscuits, that fit a hungry man's mouth like no square imitation ever will... and for American beer served in the good old-fashioned way, in tall, cool mugs or ordinary glasses, with frosty sides and bubbles winking at the brim!

Think I'll step out to the kitchen for a snack right now!

To You Who Love GOOD MUSIC:

Always, we have said, "The Columbus Philharmonic Orchestra is your orchestra." And so it was—for you who could come to listen to our music. But now, if you cannot come to us, our music will come to you. Beginning Saturday, November 8, and continuing each Saturday for twenty weeks our Popular Concerts—when we play your best-loved music—will be broadcast over WCOL from 7:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.—1230 on your dial.

At last, for all of you, the Columbus Philharmonic Orchestra is truly your orchestra—yours to hear, yours to enjoy, yours to bring into the circle of your home.

For this privilege we are very happy. And for making it possible we thank our radio host, the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company.

Leopold Stokowski

Conductor, Columbus Philharmonic Orchestra

Rather, Mr. Solomon, you should thank the people of Greater Columbus—the warm-hearted, music-loving people who recently rallied so splendidly to the support of the Columbus Philharmonic Orchestra.

If the people of our City had not so generously evidenced their desire that the orchestra continue, we at Columbus and Southern would never have known how universally the orchestra was wanted and needed.

We would never have realized that the one perfect gift we might give to all the people is the Popular Concert music of their Orchestra brought into their homes each Saturday night.

TIGERS READY TO TAKE LIONS AT HOMECOMING

Edna Maynard Chosen To Serve As Queen At Big Friday Night Show

Circleville football enthusiasts will be treated to one of the finest programs that has ever been presented at the local school, when the Tigers engage the Washington C. H. Blue Lions. This is the last home game of the season for the Tigers.

Friday night's contest has been designated as "Homecoming" with an elaborate program scheduled.

Miss Edna Maynard has been selected to serve as homecoming queen with Miss Pat Metzger and Miss Sally Mogan acting as attendants. The queen and her court were chosen by the student body.

The "Homecoming" ceremonies will take place prior to the game, with the team escorting the queen and her attendants onto the gridiron. After the queen and her attendants have been paraded to the Circleville side of the field the Tiger captain will crown the queen and present a bouquet of flowers.

As to the game itself fans should see one of the most thrilling battles of the season. The Tigers and Blue Lions are rivals for many years and always point to this contest. As an added incentive, the Tigers will be out to see that the Blue Lions do not spoil "Homecoming."

The Tigers have had rough practice sessions each night in preparation for the game. With linemen getting down low, charging hard and fast, the play of the forward wall is expected to be improved considerably. Along with the linemen the Tiger ball toters have been getting their share of attention, particular emphasis being placed on getting down low and driving.

Coaches Steve Brudzinski and Tommy Bennett expressed opinion at Wednesday's practice that the Tigers were out of the slump they have been suffering since the Newcomerstown fracas. The coaches also feel that the boys have reached a keen mental edge for this game and will give a good account of themselves Friday night.

THE TIGERS are in good shape for the contest with the boys overcoming injuries that have plagued them for several weeks.

Circleville's offense will be built around passes and efforts to break "Sandy" Hill open. Other Tiger backs will come in for their share of ball-carrying.

A solemn note will be added to the game for 10 boys on the Tiger squad. These 10 lads are seniors and will be playing their last game on the local gridiron for the Red and Black.

The following boys are being graduated this year: Paul "Skeet" Smallwood, Robert Ferguson, backs; Robert Shaw, Marcus Albright, Robert Boggs, Donald Woodward, Gene Radcliff, Carl Radcliff, Jr., Robert Elsea and John Reber, linemen. Robert Elsea is the only one of the boys who will not be in uniform. He is suffering from an arm injury.

Washington C. H. and Circleville have records much the same for the season. The Blue Lions will hold a weight advantage as was expected. They present a diversified attack using running and passing equally well.

KEY MEN in the visitors' attack will be Brandon, who is touted to be quite a defensive back, while Wyatt and Sagar have been the offensive thorns for Washington opponents.

Another treat for the spectators will be the appearance of the Circleville and Washington C. H. bands at halftime. Prof. Zaenglein has been working his musicians on several new formations that should prove pleasing to the crowd. The Washington C. H. tooters need little introduction as they have performed here previously and can be counted on for a good show.

The Tiger reserves will travel to Chillicothe tonight to meet the reserves of that school in a contest scheduled for 7:30.

The host team holds the only victory over the Tigers this season and the young Tigers are out to get revenge for that setback.

Rickey and Durocher Wall of Silence May Tumble Any Moment

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—Leo Durocher is due back in Los Angeles by plane today and Branch Rickey already has resumed his routine at the Brooklyn baseball offices, leaving 3,000 miles and a wall of silence between them.

But to many well informed sources it may be the silence that precedes the storm.

Durocher made no secret of the fact that he expected, while in New York, to be re-hired for his old managerial spot at Ebbets field, after a sabbatical '47 season in which he stood "grounded" by the punitive decree of Commissioner Chandler.

Leo also was emphatic in stating, confidentially, that he would not leave New York until he got a showdown which would "show me exactly where I stand."

He reportedly left at midnight from La Guardia field. If he knew where he stood by that time, it apparently was more than Rickey did.

THE "SHOWDOWN" at the latter's Maryland farm seems to have turned into a 40-hour demonstration of mutual esteem. Yet apparently it brought Durocher no contract and Rickey no solution of a "problem," vague of nature and prodigious of surmise.

If the usually articulate Durocher knew any more than he did before, he failed to show it when the pair arrived at Penn station yesterday. He said airily to questions, "talk to Branch about it," and hurried off.

Rickey proved practically bereft of definite disclosures bearing on the subject. But under pressure, however, he implied a number of things that seemed to have clarifying values, as follows:

(A) Burt Shotton, interim manager who led the Dodgers to the pennant, had nothing to do with the so-called "problem"; (B) The relationship of Rickey and Durocher is genuinely cordial; (C) There is no question of Durocher's ability as a leader; (D) Rickey wasn't exploiting the situation—Durocher's marked "disservice."

IN ADDITION, National league headquarters denied innuendoes that Durocher was under a sub-rosa exile of indeterminate length. Oddly, all this seemed to get rid of various "problems" without producing a Durocher contract. Why?

There is a definite feeling around the baseball belt that the last word hasn't been uttered on this, and that the final hand has not been dealt.

The question is: how long can you button the Lip?

THE INTERSECTIONAL slate is dominated by a Western conference game between Northwestern and Ohio State at Columbus and by the appearance of Miami, Fla., U., against the University of Cincinnati.

OTHER OUT-of-state rivalries: Toledo at Wayne; Dover State at Wilberforce; Assumption at Heidelberg (Fri.); Youngstown at St. Vincents (Fri.); Rose Poly at Cedarville; Bowling Green at St. Bonaventure; Mt. Union at Allegheny; Kenyon at Hobart; Oberlin at Wabash; Canterbury at Hiram; Marietta vs. West Virginia Wesleyan at Parkersburg, W. Va. (Fri.); Carnegie Tech at Case.

In the Ohio conference, Ohio Northern plays at Muskingum; Wooster entertains Akron; Wittenberg and Ashland tangle Friday night and Otterbein journeys to Baldwin-Wallace.

Other games: Wilmington at Findlay (Fri.); Ohio Wesleyan at Ohio U; Bluffton at Defiance.

Backs—Bob Brugge and Dean Sensenbaurer both of doubtful value with chronic muscle and ankle injuries, respectively.

27 GAMES ON OHIO GRID BILL OVER WEEKEND

Seventeen Of Saturday Tilts Intersectional—Flock Of Star Attractions

By International News Service Reaching the climactic stage of the 1947 season, Ohio colleges will indulge in 27 football games over a long "weekend" that began today and lasts through Sunday.

A brush between Rio Grande and Ohio University's "B" team was scheduled for today. Sunday's action finds John Carroll at Niagara, N. Y., and Canisius of Buffalo, N. Y., at Steubenville.

In between there are a flock of five-star attractions. All told, 17 of the games are intersectional in nature. Only five Ohio conference and one mid-American tilt are listed.

Heading the state and Ohio conference card, Denison defends the only undefeated and untied Buckeye record at Capital. It will be homecoming for the Bexley boys Saturday, but it promises to be a dismal affair. The Big Red of Denison will be heavily favored.

Miami, also unbeaten but tied by Xavier, plays a strong Dayton eleven. The Flyers drubbed Xavier, 38 to 6, just last week.

In the mid-American circuit, Western Reserve plays at Butler.

The intersectional slate is dominated by a Western conference game between Northwestern and Ohio State at Columbus and by the appearance of Miami, Fla., U., against the University of Cincinnati.

OTHER OUT-of-state rivalries: Toledo at Wayne; Dover State at Wilberforce; Assumption at Heidelberg (Fri.); Youngstown at St. Vincents (Fri.); Rose Poly at Cedarville; Bowling Green at St. Bonaventure; Mt. # JOLTING JOE TO GET CHECKUP ON ARM CONDITION

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—New York baseball news today concerned hospital trips for two centerfielders, Joe Dimaggio of the Yanks and rookie Bobby Thomson of the Giants.

Dimaggio, plagued with an injured heel and "chips" in his arm will enter Johns Hopkins hospital either Saturday or Sunday for an over-all checkup to see if his arm will have to undergo surgery.

Thomson, who complained late in the season of "water-on-the-knee," will be operated on for the removal of calcium deposits in his left knee on Nov. 17 at Harkness pavilion in New York.
